Link Web Extractor is an utility for offline web research and creation of a link database. This is based on the concept of the program Dream Weaving, that combines the best aspects of Search Engines (SEO) with meta tags, and analyzes the extracted information in the same way a search engine would do. With Link Web Extractor you do not have to manually extract URLs from web pages, as the program does it automatically. If you want to extract the complete URLs, you can always right-click on the URLs and select the "Extract URLs" option. Link Web Extractor extracts the title, url, url fragment, site name, page description and meta tag from the web pages. This makes a link database file (.LWF) that can be opened in any text editor and saved. The link database file can also be imported to most e-mail programs like Outlook, Thunderbird, Eudora, Gear, Imove, Claria, etc. The program also has extensive options for fine-tuning the results. It is possible to filter the extracted information. For example, you can select all the pages that have no title. To use it, you have to download the following two files.
