He's just one of those lads who wanders off," said his father Luke Cowen, who was also out looking for his son after he went missing in the fields in a nearby village of Drumaness, in St Mary's, County Down, on Wednesday. When he hadn't returned home at his usual time the following evening, his family became concerned and began searching for him. "My dad and I did a round of the fields in the area, as did a few other people, and that's when we discovered his body," he said. "It was when we came upon the body that we realised that he was actually lying down when he was stabbed. It appears that he had been sleeping off the effects of drink or
