What's New In DeskPic?

DeskPic is a simple application that automatically adds a new icon to the system tray, and right-clicking on it will provide you with access to its settings. You can pause it with a single mouse click, then restart it right away. It is basically an AutoHotkey script that allows you to resize or crop any image, whether it is stored on your computer or selected on your desktop. Finally, the program allows you to add any frame around the image to your desktop, then apply any degree of transparency to it. If you would like to keep a secret the current image of your desktop, you can change the shape of the frame to make it appear as a circle or rectangle. DeskPic is freeware. You can use it forever. System Requirements: System Requirements: The developer, SpywareLabs, claims that DeskPic is a free tool that does not require installation, is small and easy to use. However, you must manually upload the desired image in order for it to be applied to your desktop. Since the app is freeware, you are free to use it as long as you wish. AutoHotkey is a free utility that allows you to create a keyboard macro system. Using its features, you can automatically perform different actions or execute a single command when you type a given string, or you can even customize its behavior to avoid triggering any unwanted actions. AutoHotkey lets you add an unlimited number of custom keyboard shortcuts to the system, and the program is capable of using any text string that you want. The program supports a large number of languages, and you can even take advantage of its powerful scripting functionality to write your own scripts. Simply put, AutoHotkey is an extensive application that also offers a vast array of add-ons for your convenience. If you wish, you can also install other tools from the developer's site, since he provides free downloads and instructions. Finally, the AutoHotkey community is also actively contributing to the project. As a result, you can always find useful add-ons and resources. The desktop notes application can help you write memos, reminders, and anything else you might come across when working. Since it is basically a notepad application, you can use the app as an add-on to your favorite text editors. The program works like a regular notepad, and you can add up to 100 notes at once. Of course, you can navigate through your notes using the arrow keys, change their colors, resize them, as well as add various editing tools. Furthermore, if you want to keep a secret your notes or text, you can change the document's name to anything you choose and apply a password or encryption in order to keep it hidden. Finally, the application provides full formatting support, so you can easily format the text in a variety of different styles and fonts.
