Since its release in 2010, "The Elder Scrolls" has developed an extensive online presence on services such as Xbox Live, PlayStation Network, and Steam. In December of 2010, it was revealed that "The Elder Scrolls Online" will be launching on PC, Mac, and PS3, as well as on Xbox One and PS4, and that it will play on all three of the major consoles. "The Elder Scrolls Online" is currently being developed by the Bethesda Game Studios and in-house development team at ZeniMax Online Studios. The console version of "The Elder Scrolls Online" will release as early as 2012, with downloadable content arriving ahead of the retail release. ■ Official Site: ■ Twitter: ■ Facebook: ■ YouTube: ■ Twitch: *Some content may require the purchase of an expansion pack to access. Tuesday, July 3, 2008 Health News: Newborns suffer poor brain development after preterm birth The fetuses that survive the very earliest stages of labour are more likely to suffer bad brain development that can make them much more likely to experience learning difficulties, research suggests. The health of an unborn baby's brain in the womb is considered to be the most important indicator of later intelligence. A study of more than 5,000 children looked at how well the children did in school and found that children with the most "premature" of births were significantly less likely to have high IQs. Researchers from the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Minnesota studied a group of children born more than three weeks early, which they called "very preterm". They found that 31% of very preterm children had IQs in the moderate range - that is, in the lower half of the normal population. It came as another study has found that even

The importance of positive thinking in your everyday life
What are you thinking about right now? If your thoughts are negative, you could be living in a negative way. A few min ago I was listening to the podcast Get Your Shiny Back. on the show, Jay Dixit, shares the importance of positive thinking. He says, "When you think about you, your life and your way of looking at the world you are creating a vibrational frequency that attracts more of the same; there has to be a counter-balance. So if you are thinking about what you don't have in your life, or how much you don't have, you are not energetically attracting more of the same. When you are thinking about your blessings, you are energetically attracting more of your blessings." What Are You Thinking About Right Now? What you are thinking about right now is what you are attracting in your life. Choose your thoughts, and you choose the life you are creating. To take your thoughts and emotions and turn them into health, wealth, and happiness; please watch this video on Get Your Shiny Back Radio. The importance of positive thinking in your everyday life
Are you thinking about what you don't have in your life? Be grateful for what you have. Be grateful for your family and friends. Think about what you have in your life, and you will get more of what you have. Change Your Thinking: "If you think about how much you don't have in your life, and you are negative, you don't have, you are going to attract more of the same. When you are thinking about your blessings, you are energetically attracting more of your blessings." What are you thinking about right now? If your thoughts
