Maria Cantwell have reportedly agreed to terms that include a proposal to fund and build the 1,700-mile, $86.7 billion federal highway and construction project along Interstate 5 in Washington state. The Associated Press reported Wednesday that the two senators agreed to what it identified as a "compromise measure" that will be introduced "in short order." Negotiations about the major highway deal continued since a report last week that Murray and Cantwell had held talks but came no closer to reaching an agreement. One of the points of dispute between Murray and Cantwell included the Democrats' concern about a 1.2 percent excise tax on gasoline that would provide a source of revenue to pay for a federally funded highway plan. Cantwell argued that state revenues would provide the money, but Murray and others disagreed. Murray took to Twitter on Wednesday, saying: "Major discussion with Republicans and Democrats about funding the interstate 5 (and other needed) infrastructure projects in Washington, my home state. No definitive agreement yet. But we're headed in the right direction. Shared vision for

What's new in Faraway Islands:

by DeviantArt The Revealed Secrets of Awakening Knowledge Arts Feast of Lanterns Review by A.E. Ciris The primary goal of The Revealed Secrets of Awakening Knowledge Arts is for artists to explore the energized art of merging knowledge with their artistic making. Through new merged art works created by independent artists, students and teachers, the secrets of awakening knowledge arts are revealed. During the Feast of Lanterns, The Revealed Secrets of Awakening Knowledge Arts art show will be turned up to eleven, and for as long as attendees wish to stay. The catch is that only new artists or lesser known artists will be included, for it seems to say that only those who are new to the arts are destined to become great artists. I have created The Revealed Secrets of Awakening Knowledge Arts art book, with all the neat projects from the showings. Being a critic of this art journal style book genre in many ways, I think it might be worth noting something. The art book that I am posting is the art book that I made. To be honest, when I was making this art book, my art journal was on the shelf, and I was seriously considering just making a new art journal. At one time I thought that I might also start another book this way, but I have had such fun working on this art book that I never picked up the notebook for my new art journal (which I actually could have looked at, in one sitting, but was on the shelf, out of sight, so it slipped my mind). Where is the art book? It was buried under a stack of many books, on the shelf, a mess of dust bunnies, dead house spiders, and (more dust bunnies). I was going to toss those books and leave them in a corner, or even burn them (but why would I?). I'm tired of throwing things out, unless it is the garbage can (a recent thing for me). E then again, I also threw away the garbage. After cleaning the house, and before leaving to the store to buy the art journal I have been wanting to buy, I spied the art book. I felt this urge to pick it up, and bring it to the library to place it with others in the "Books Taken by the Modern Period" category (which I really like, but it is
