You wake up, in a dark, badly damaged village, all the survivors missing, the Infected roaming everywhere, the only sound the occasional zombie groan or snarl. Can you find out what happened? Who are you? And what is the fate of mankind? It's Dangerous out There is a chance-based, console-style rogue-lite action adventure where you walk the line between survival and heroism. FULLY ACQUIRED WORLD This isn't a post-apocalyptic setting. It's a fully acquired world, with custom sound, lighting, and art assets, just like in the GTA series. FREE WORLD-SECTOR CONSTRUCTION This isn't a small indie one-off, it's a fully constructed and populated city district of a large metropolis. EXTREME AI VARIATION AND

INNOVATIONS You're an Infected, and just one lone man against a world of infected. You must use any advantages you have at your disposal to survive.

FRESH STORYTELLING Use loot and exploration to uncover the whole story of your character's past.

LOOT AND EXPLORATION: As you venture deeper into the game's world, you'll find loot chests, buildings with hidden loot chests, and many more ways to earn resources. No two playthroughs will be the same. Find the best way to explore the landscape, find resources, and figure out your fate.

PHYSICAL TOLLING If you die or get infected, you'll start up again with a limited amount of health and supplies. Save your progress to continue after death.

CHOOSE YOUR VILLAGER Between the three primary playable characters, there are multiple ways to build your character, each with their own strengths and weaknesses.

DECENT AVAILABILITY AND SALES TOURNAMENT Play store download link, Steam and itch.io digital download. The post-apocalyptic world is rife with danger, and the survival rate is abysmal. Yet still, you carry on, believing that someday you'll find the answer as to why the world is coming to an end. But fear not, for you're not alone; there's another out there, who may just hold the key to your survival. It's Dangerous Out There is a chance-based, console-style rogue-lite action adventure where you walk the line between survival and heroism. In this prototype version, the level editor is only accessible while playing. This feature will be available in the final version of the game. Generate Random Missions: You will be able to create multiple different random missions for your game. Configurable: You can configure your options at any time, including options for the level editor. Rethink Order: There is no set order to finish the game. If you get stuck on a puzzle, you can always change your way around. Play, fail, learn, and fail again.

PICO FUSION is a local multiplayer action game for 1 to 4 players in which you'll manipulate light-controlled objects such as prisms, rods and mirrors in order to perform special effects, creating and controlling the game environment. PICO FUSION is the perfect game to play alone, with friends or with your kids. You'll play as a 2D character who controls an in-game avatar, and whose actions are limited by the position and orientation of physical objects (spheres, cones, cubes and boxes). You'll need to navigate your character in order to manipulate light-controlled physical objects in the game. Each physical object will act as a constraint on the character movement. The ideal position and orientation of the physical objects allows to move and perform special effects on the in-game character and the environment around him. If the character performs too many or too few special effects on the environment, his health will be reduced. There are two different health bars, one represents the physical health of the character and the other represents the mental health. PICO FUSION will contain ten levels with increasing difficulty.

ReviewsGameplay- It's a simple title and some of the movement/action is clumsy but i like that it shows and emphasis on personality- It's a silly game and it doesn't try to be anything else. It's enjoyable and that's all that matters. This is a multiplayer game in which you control an avatar in a series of enclosed stages. In each stage, you can select a puzzle to solve. Solving a puzzle will consume the avatar's life bar. Once a level is complete, the next stage will begin.Dodge or Die is a action-puzzle hybrid game for up to 4 players. The game takes place in a 3x3 square world with 9-segment puzzles as the game's central mechanic. Players are tasked with working through these puzzles in order to survive the 2D world of dodge or die. In addition to dodging enemy

What's new:

A fight for survival! Hellfrost: The Frost Giant's Hold The City of Sigrun has been utterly desolated and most of it burned. The few survivors have been left to scavenge the remains for the precious few items needed for rebuilding. Your mission: loot the remains of the city and build up a settlement for refugees. Objectives ? Recapture the Frost Giant's gold. ? Find all the precious gems. ? Find your way out of the city. You are an expedition of twelve survivors who survived the last retreat of the city of Sigrun and now search for a better life. Your goal is to find three items for the Norsemen, precious items that they possess and are known as Silganz, 'Ice gems' and they were used to produce strong swords. These swords were a symbol of power and status and were something no ordinary person could possess. But such days are gone now and you will have to make do with what you find. Your settlement should become a city where you can make friends as you build up a new life.

Q: Nested Fragments acting like singleton? I have a fragment with an ArrayAdapter used to inflate and populate a ListView. Within that ListView, I have a button that pops up an alert dialog with an editText. Upon clicking a button within the alert dialog, the main fragment sends that editText text to a specific interface method within the activity. The problem is that this happens so fast that it is making it seem like it is. I log (log.d) if the button is pressed, and it prints instantaneously even

Q: Transferring/throwing/blowing? Should "transfer" be followed by the direct object ("garment"), the manner in which the agent does the job ("left the door open"), a preposition indicating that the agent is doing the job ("I was blowing/throwing the leaves"), or not ("I blew/threw the leaves", "I was transferring/throwing/blowing/throwing the leaves")?

The words in parentheses in each case are explained in
